Obey the Rules

Rules and Regulations: Dumpster

We've noticed recently that once again residents are mixing garbage with recyclable material. In this day and age no one needs to be reminded of what is and what isn't considered recyclable. Please be considerate and do not throw corrugated cardboard in the trash dumpster and break boxes down so they do not consume so much space. Each time the dumpster is emptied costs $125.

Parking

Although parking rules are more relaxed in the winter, please do not test the good will of others. Be considerate where you park. Guests and multiple vehicles should not be parked in the residential parking areas.

Winter Weather and Shoveling

Although the maintenance crew does its best, there are going to be times when snow accumulates. We do not have a full-time, seven day a week staff. Please be patient.

And no, we won't do your walk first.

Do Not Use Rock Salt

Some residents are proactive and make sure their walks are cleared of snow and ice, we would, however request that you DO NOT USE ROCK SALT.

We have a supply of ICE MELT and will happily resupply your containers. Just ask.

Rock salt has an adverse effect on concrete and over time, will destroy concrete walks and decks.

New Website Coming Soon with Live Weather

Major changes with our current website host have prompted us to switch providers. During the transition, the website and email server will be interrupted. Once it has been uploaded it will be a "work in progress" with continual improvements. One new addition will be a link enabling our residents to view live weather directly from Edgewater.

Feeling a little too warm there in Florida?

Tune in to the weather link at Edgewater in February and feel a little compassion for those of us freezing our butts off. Details will follow.
